Mary,
I think I once met you when I was in 8th grade and even then I thought you were beautiful.
Good luck in the future.

Mathematics

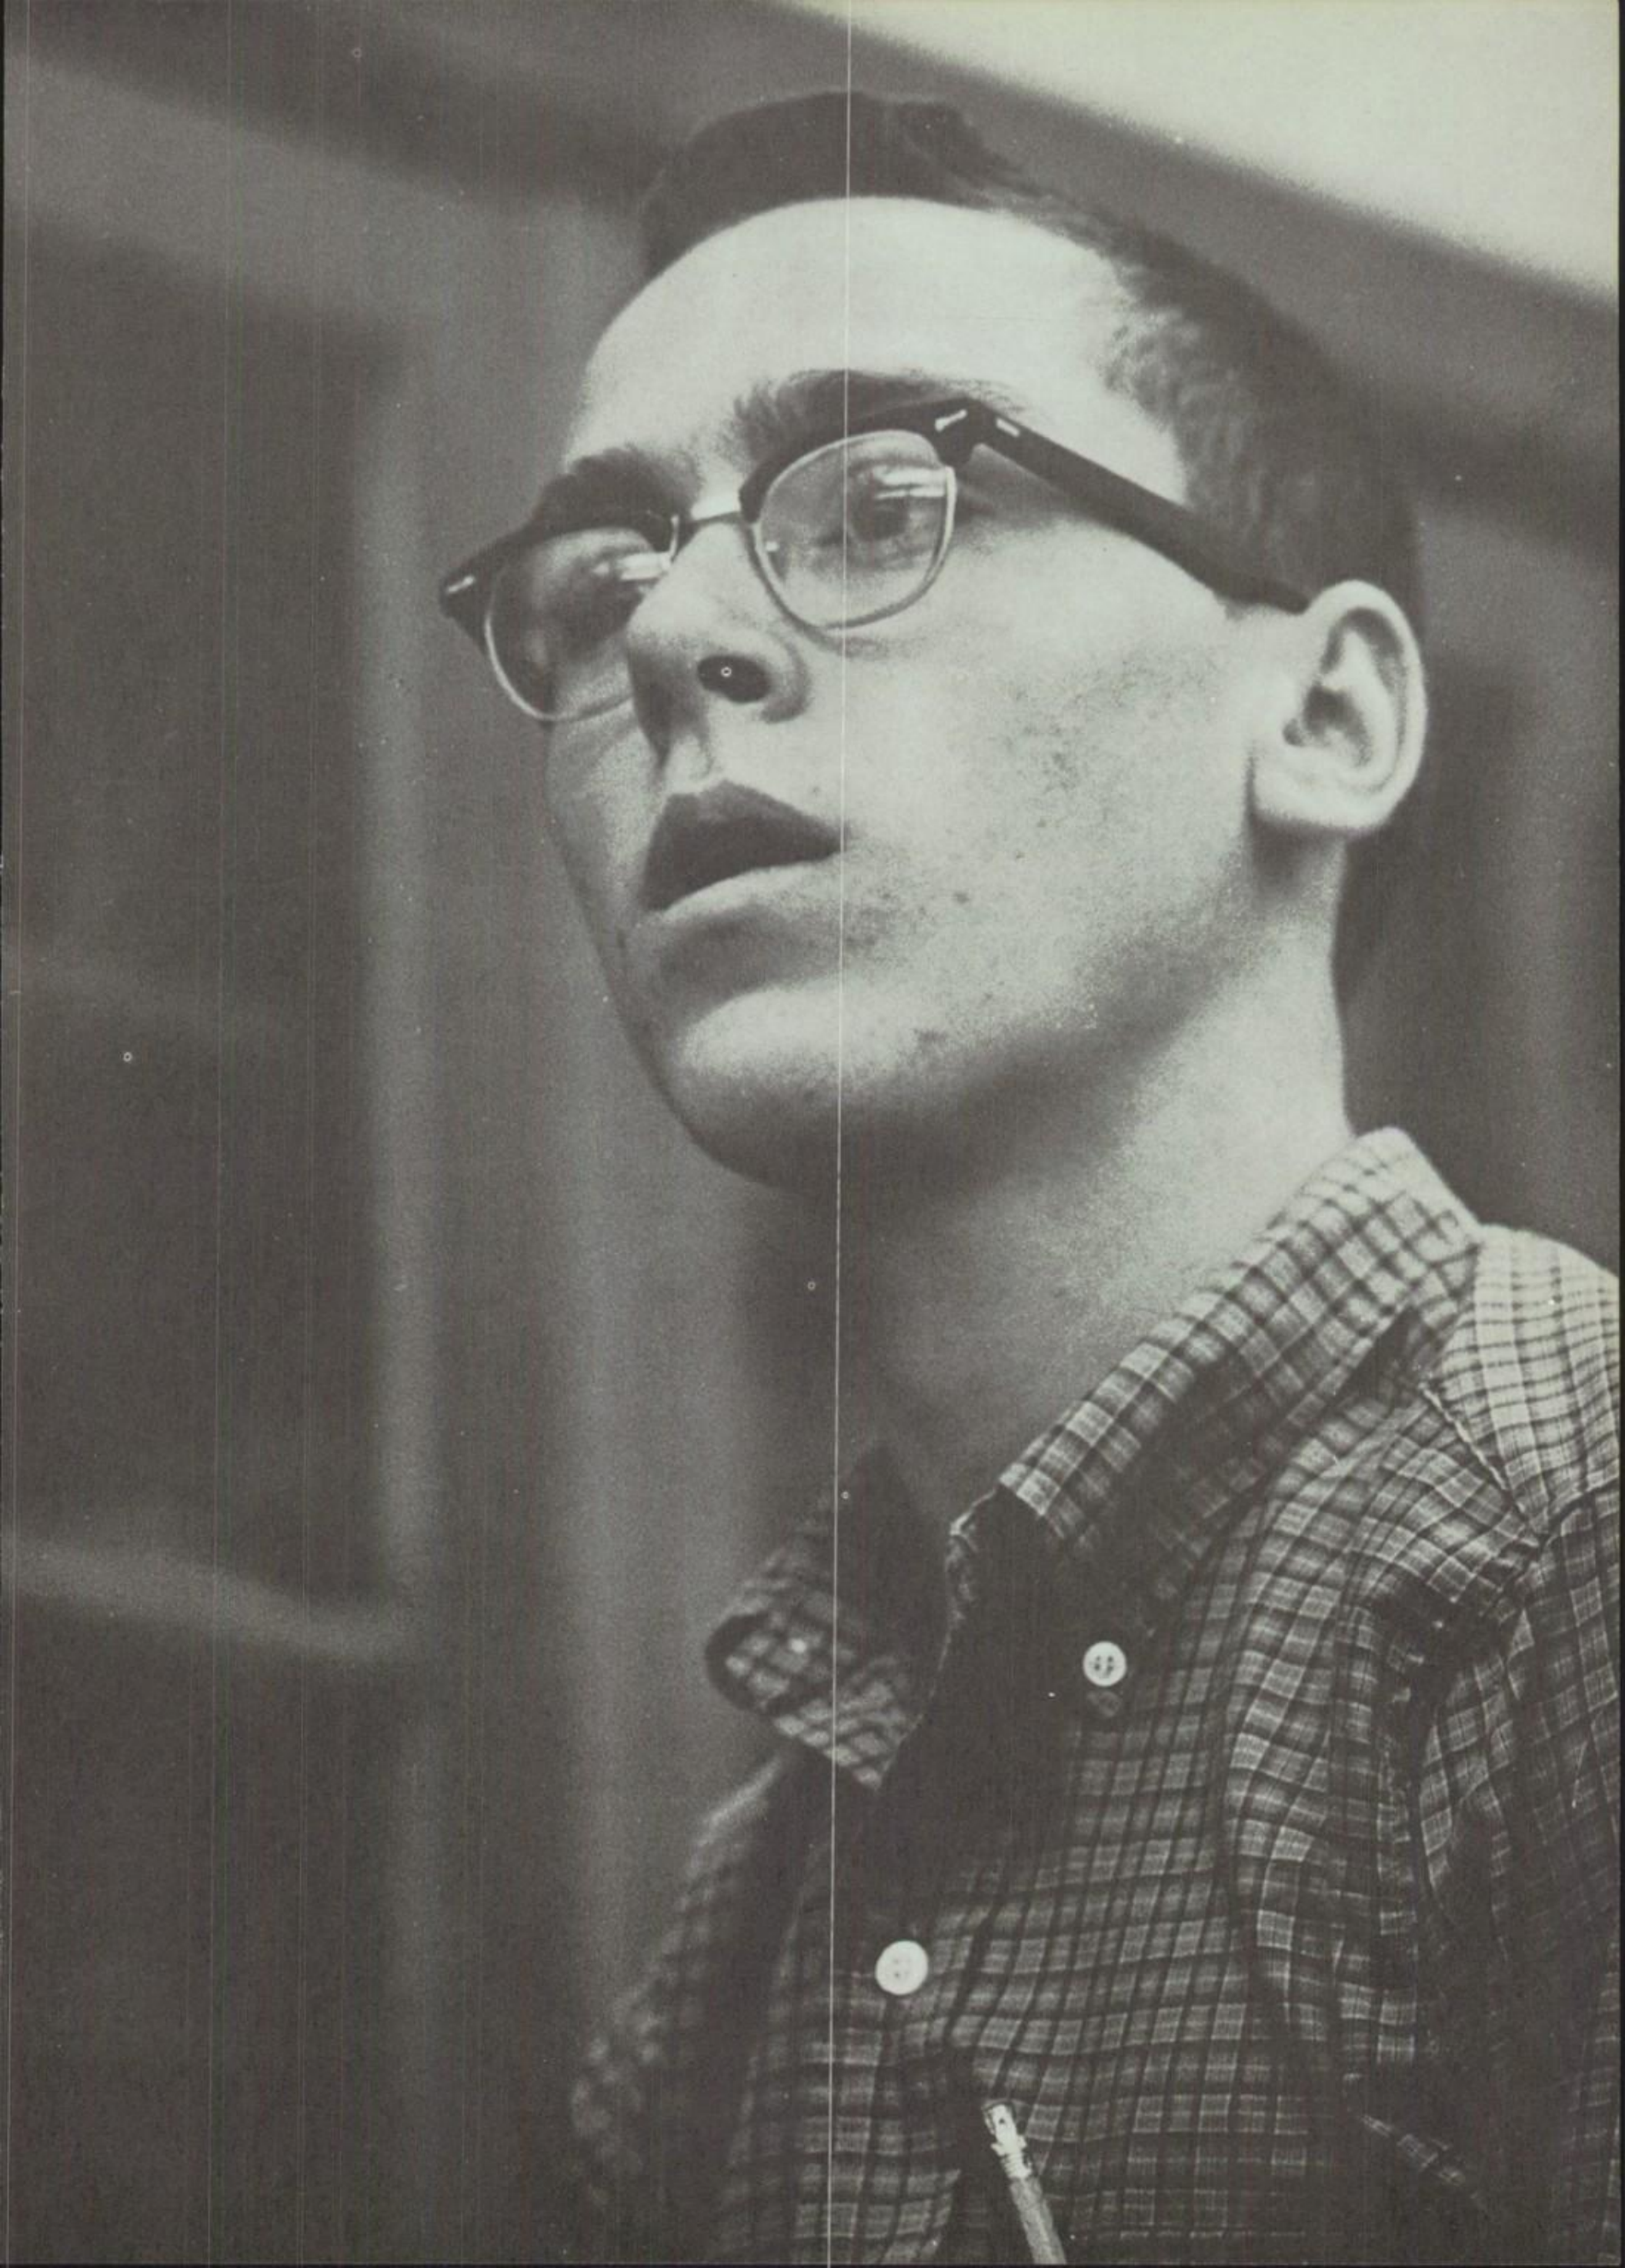

East's excellent math department offers the student necessary computational skills and the tools of logic. From Basic Math to College Math East can answer the queries of any mathematically curious student.

This year eight students survived the rigors of Mr. Kruse's College Math class and came out much wiser than the rest of us.

Mary,
It's been fun knowing you and being in class with you.
Good luck
Betty Walker

Music

Many East High students find a great deal of pleasure participating in the band, orchestra, choirs and choruses. The band and orchestra, under the capable direction of Mr. Shadwell, change the sounds that issue from room 350 in September into fine music to entertain East. Mrs. Padboy and the Concert Choir work hard each day to maintain their outstanding reputation and present fine programs.

Special Education

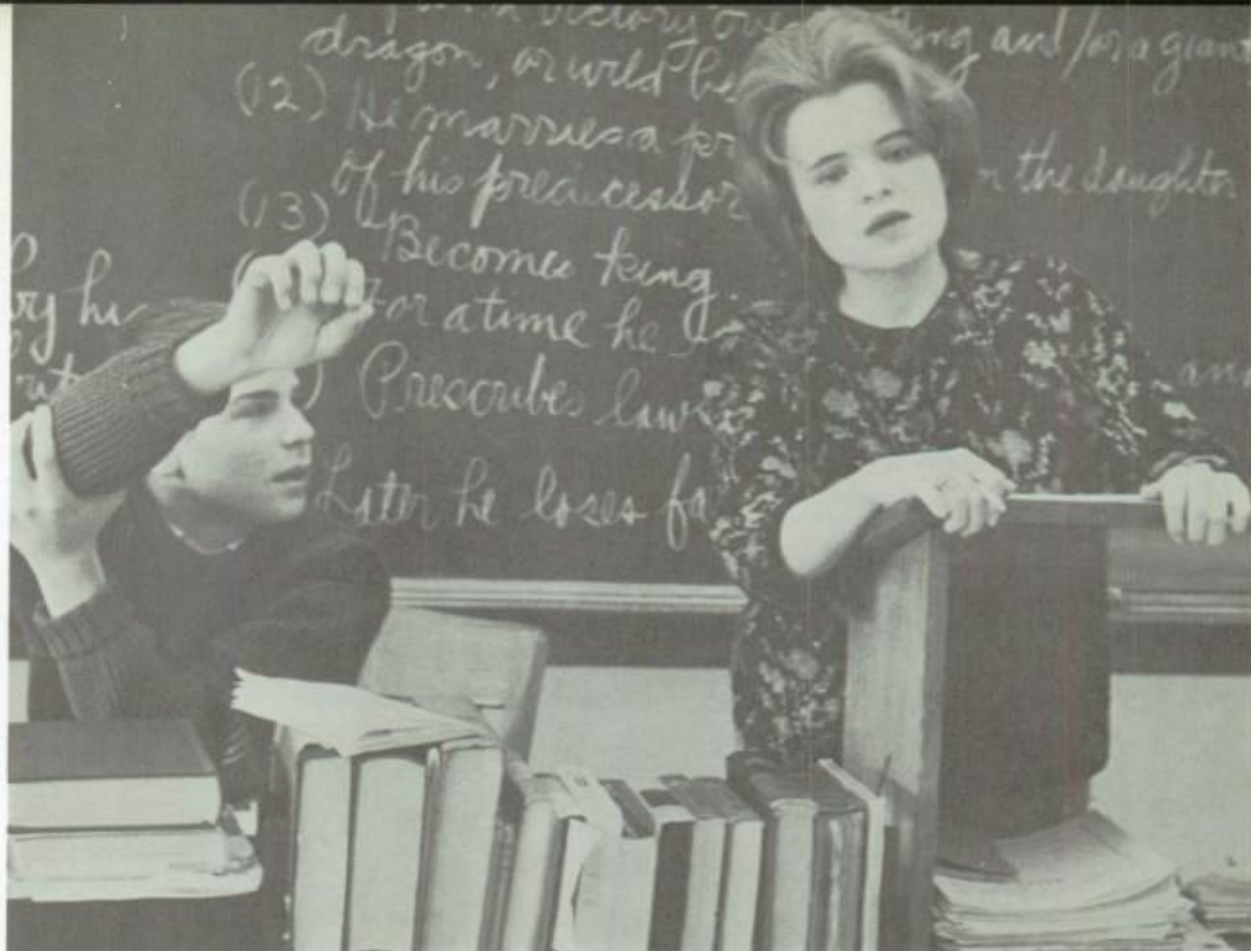

Under the direction of Mrs. Pixley, students in the special education classes prepare for future vocations by gaining practical experience in writing receipts, making change, and selling merchandise. They learn the labor laws, social security requirements, and how to apply for jobs.

Flash card drills increase the student's proficiency in arithmetic fundamentals. He learns to handle money, follow bank procedures, and fill out basic income tax forms.

English

The English department offers the student proficiency in two of the most important skills that he will achieve in his lifetime — those of expressing himself clearly, both orally and on paper, and of understanding and appreciating the words of others. Creative writing, composition, and literature courses are offered to develop these abilities.

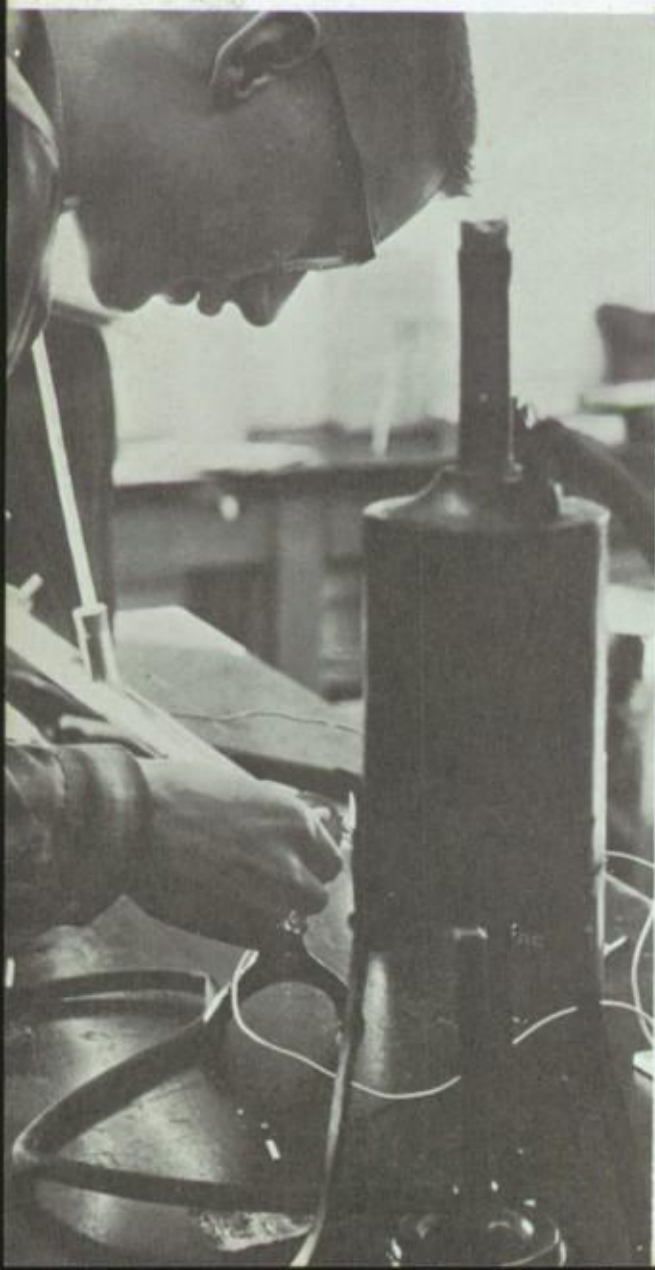

"Como esta, Senor?"

"Zer gud, fraulien."

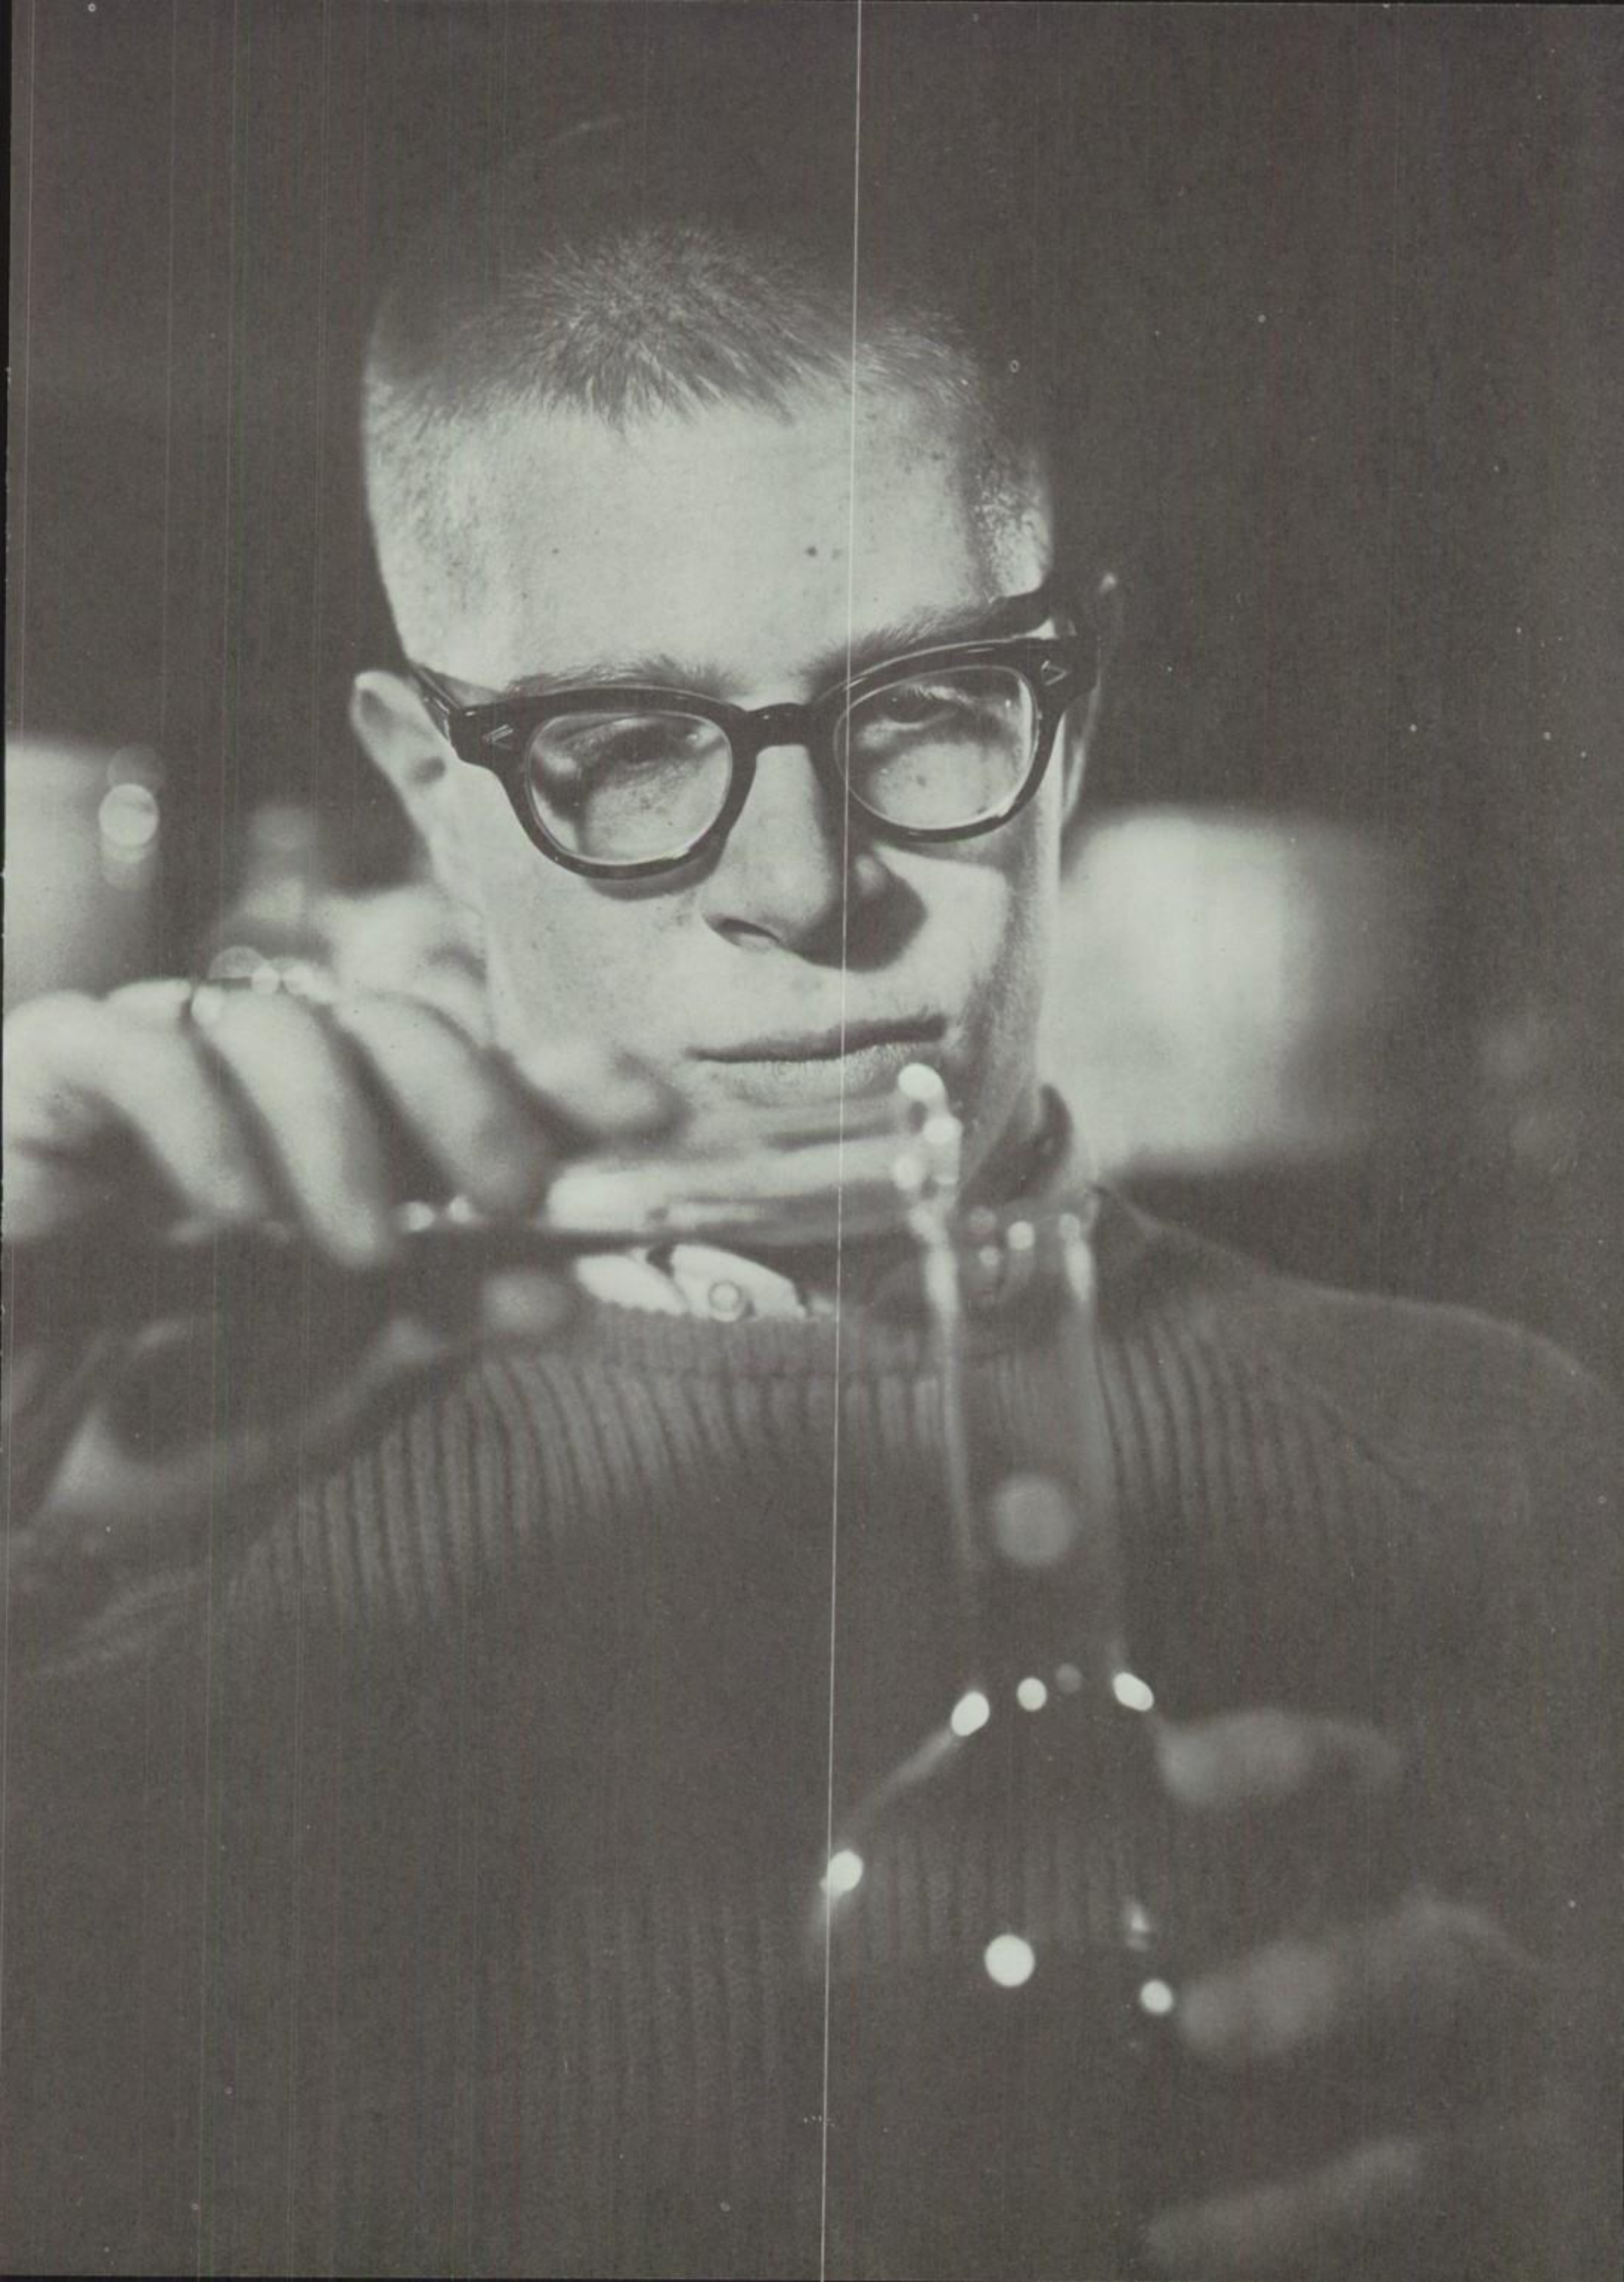

The language department introduces students to thinking in a foreign language. The interested student may choose from classical Latin and modern French, German, Russian, and Spanish. The language lab has been available two years. Tapes are on hand to help students gain facility in foreign speech. Study of a foreign language increases understanding of that culture and one's native language.

Science

The Science department answers students' questions on life and matter. Biology classes explore the basis of life. The chemistry students study chemical reactions as everyone on the third floor nose. Young physicists conclude their year's study with discussions of nuclear physics and atomic power. Interested students explore the science of photography with Mr. Spurlin.

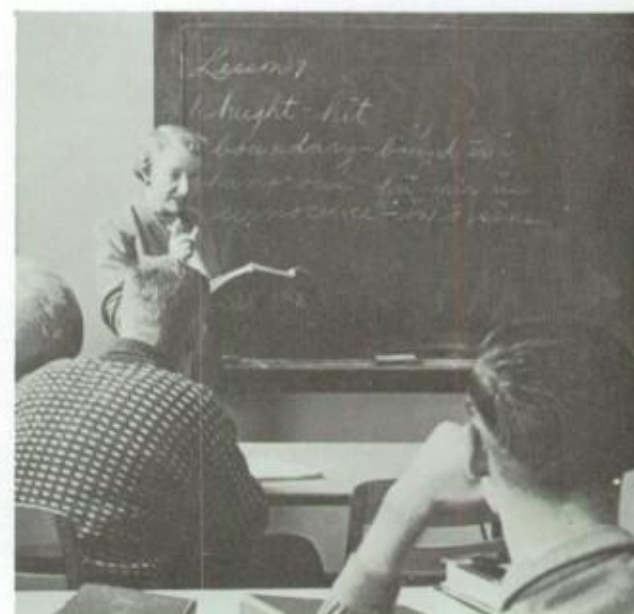

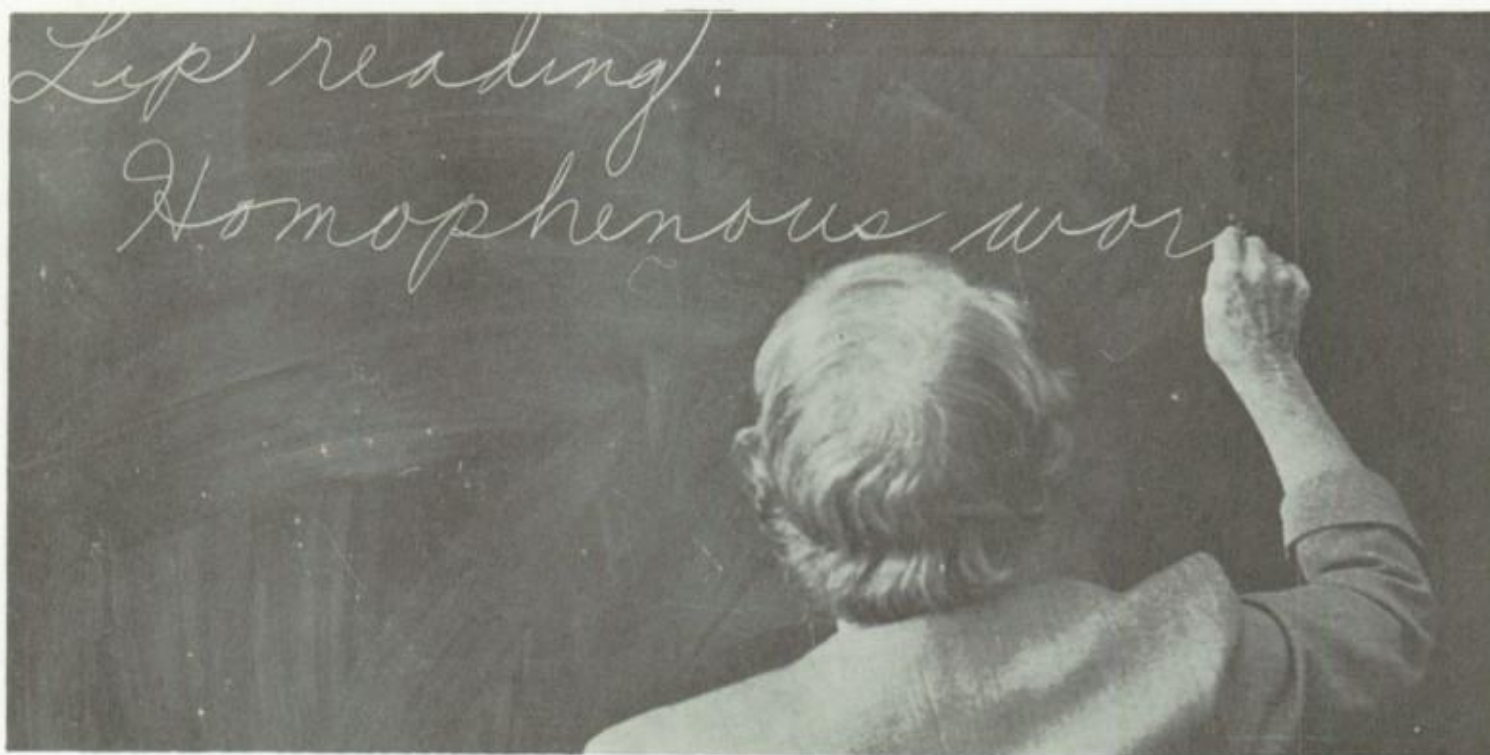

Art

East recognizes the importance of offering art courses. Students who plan careers in art can receive instruction in their regular high school curriculum. Mrs. Green and Miss DesJardins provide guidance and encouragement to those students who wish careers in commercial art, fine art, architecture, and fashion, as well as to those who take an art course for fun and relaxation.

Speech

Lab

The purpose of East's speech lab is to aid students with speech defects, while providing them with a high school curriculum. Mr. Daniels and Miss Rudolph use the lip-reading technique for hard-of-hearing students, along with various types of equipment, such as a sound amplifier, tape recorder, and a breathing table which aids in breath control and pronunciation.

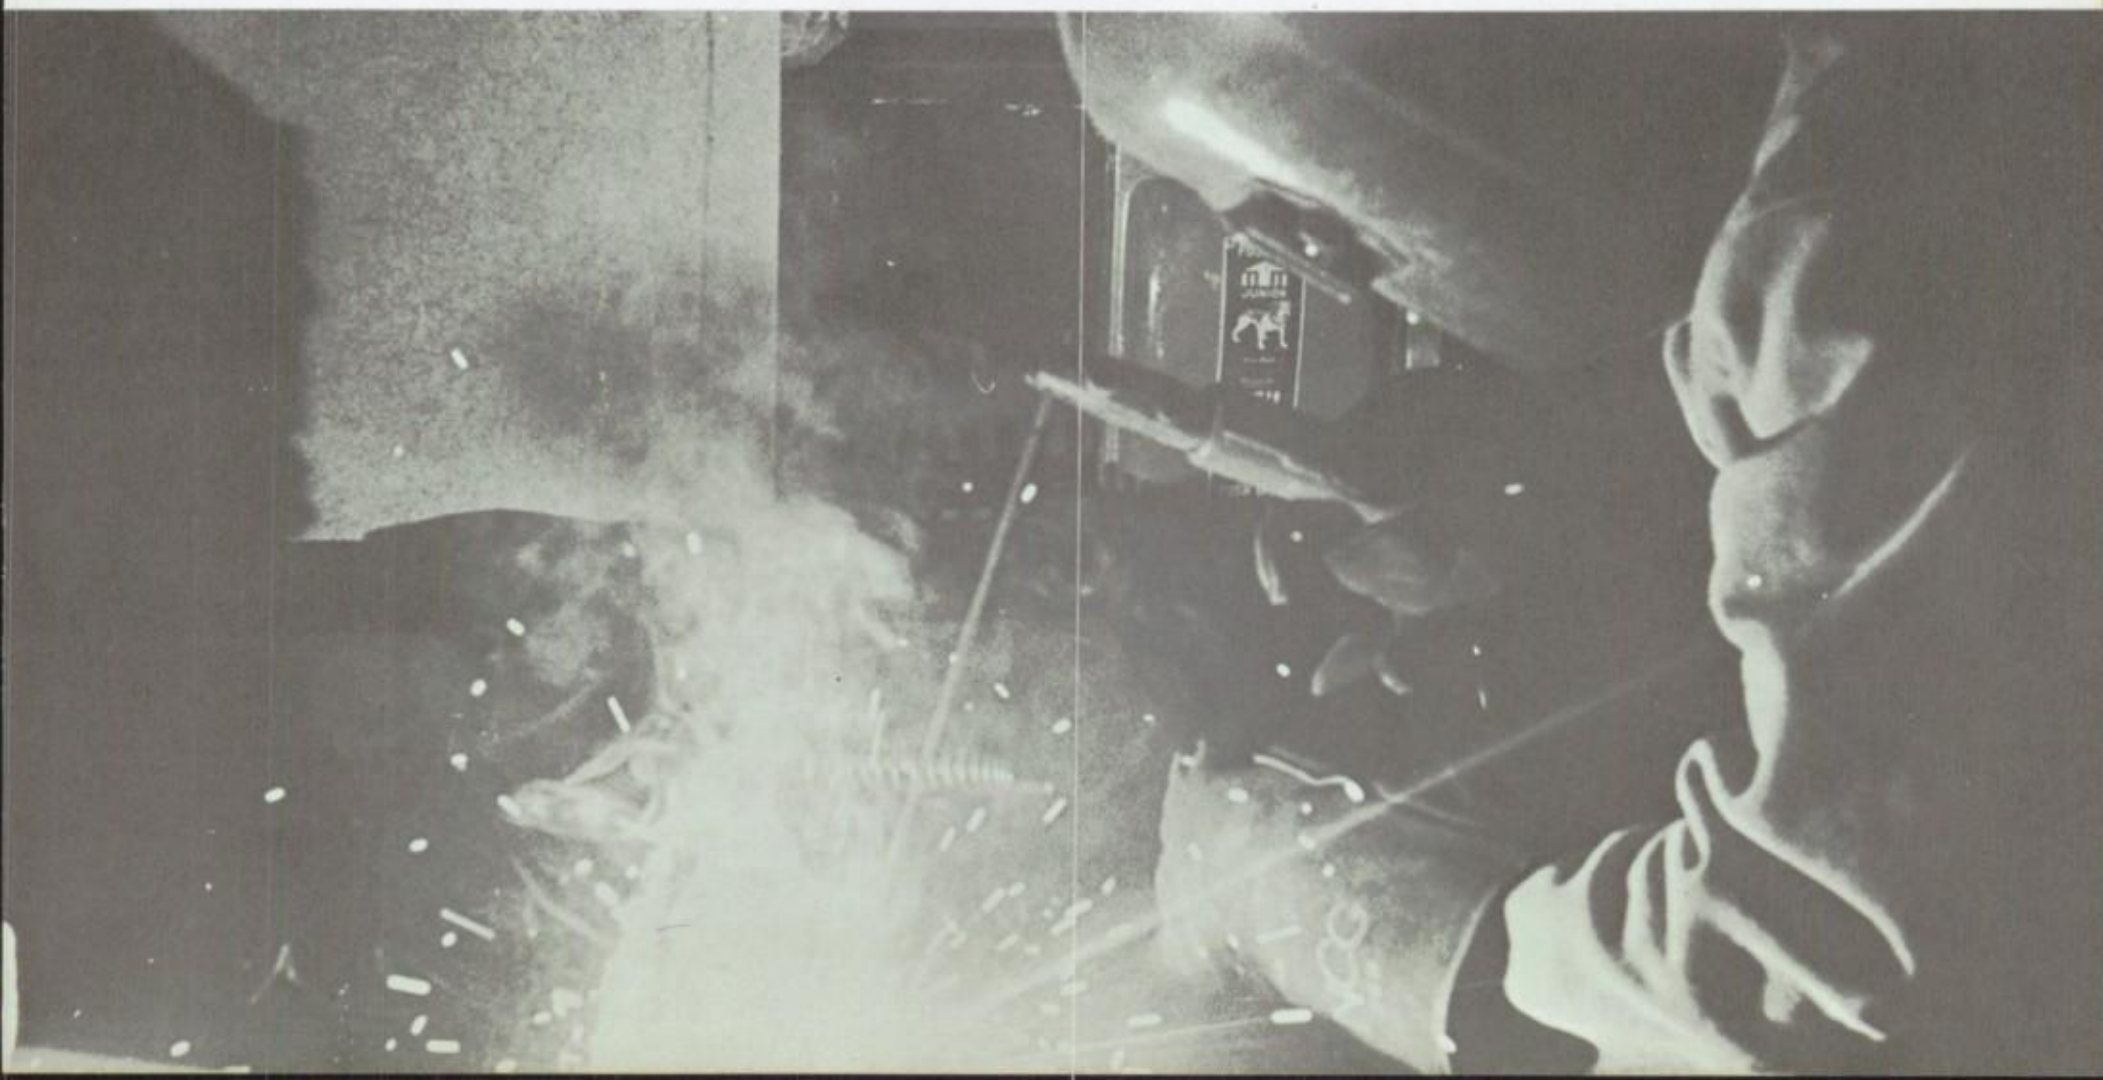

Home Economics

Teaching the domestic skills is the function of the Home Economics department. With everything from bobbins to berry pies the students busy themselves. They may enroll in such courses as Girls' Foods, Boys' Foods, Senior Clothing, and Creative Clothing.

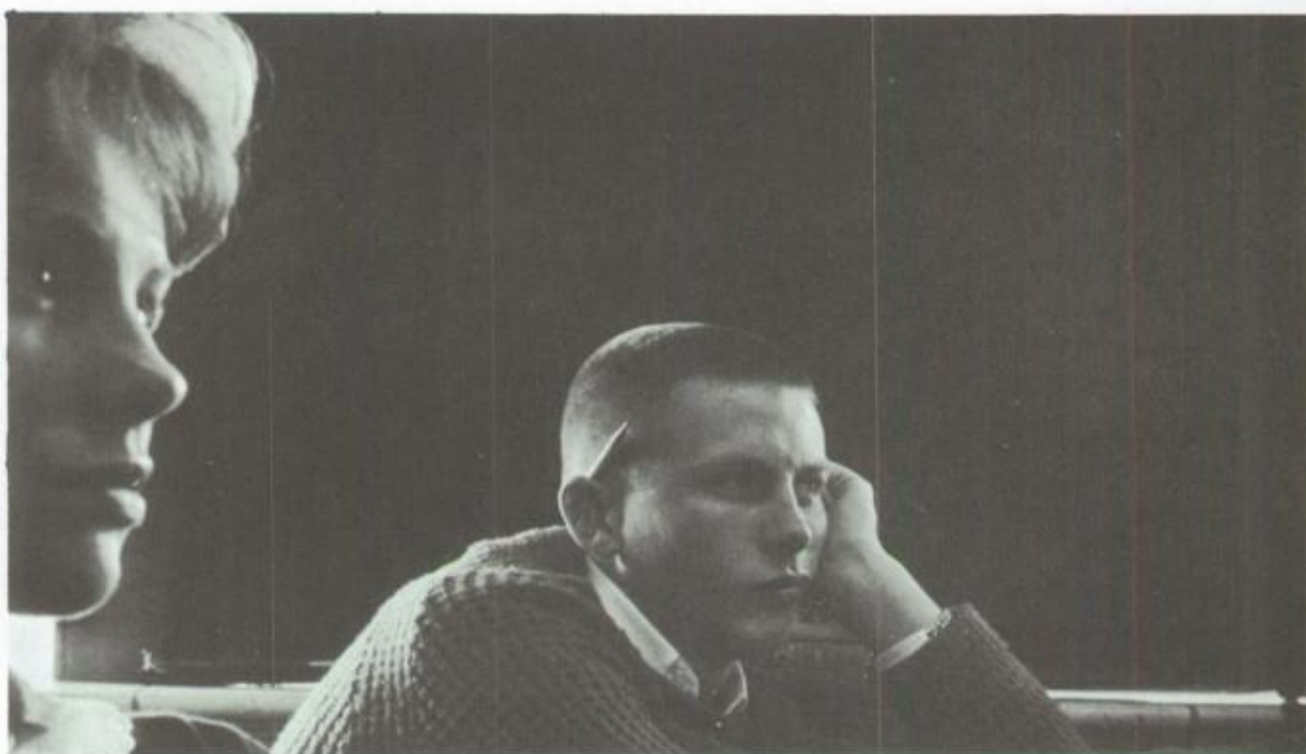

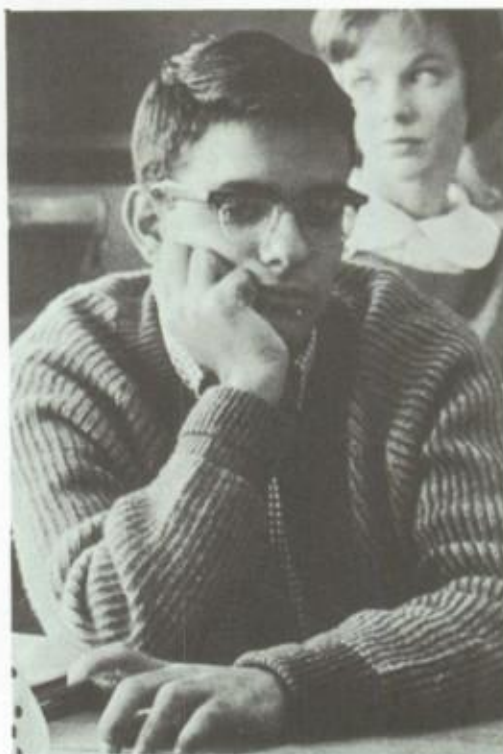

Industrial Arts

Arc welding is only one of several skills — mechanical drawing, woodworking, metalworking, and leathercrafting—the Industrial Arts staff teaches.

Social Science

I will miss you

Two semesters of American History are required at East, but interested and interesting teachers make this year of history an encouragement for most students to continue in history courses, rather than just to fulfill the requirement. On completion of this requirement the student may choose from Ancient, Medieval, Modern European, Russian or Western history, Sociology and Psychology, or Boys' or Girls' Social Problems. For those students who score high on the Iowa test in ninth grade there is the opportunity for taking Ancient history as a sophomore, Medieval and Modern European as a junior, and College American History in their last year at East.

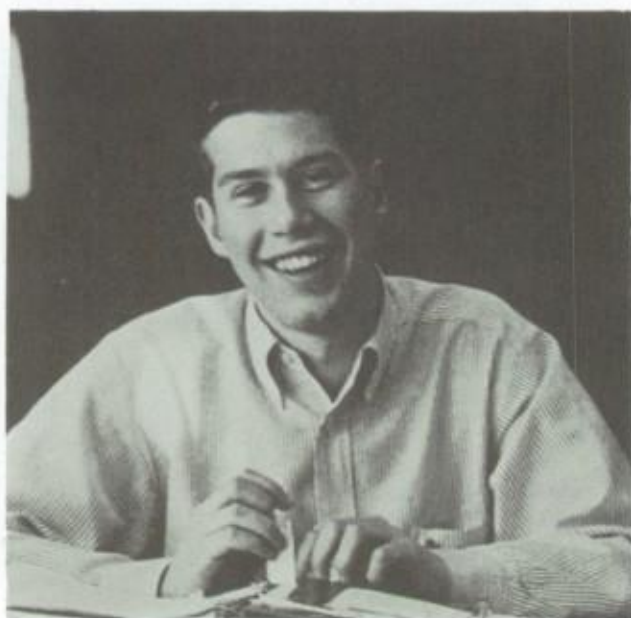

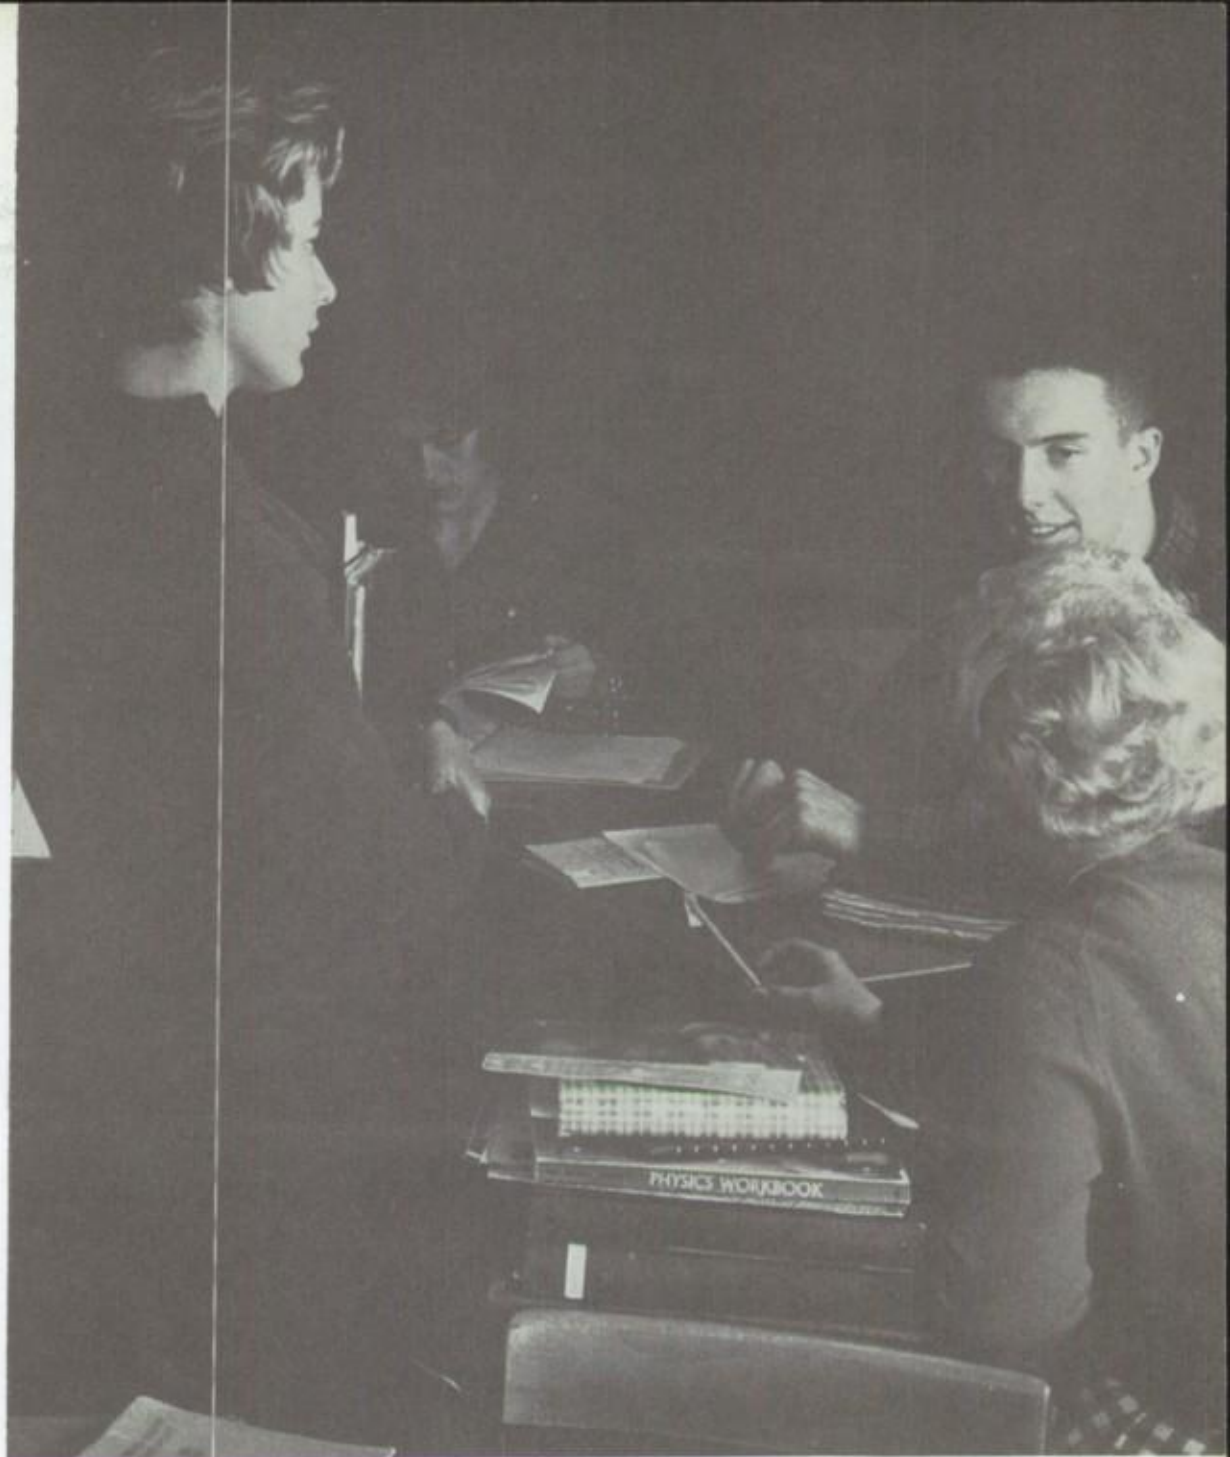

Student Council

Members of the East High Student Council discuss the problems concurrent with the responsibility of representing the students. They initiate action for the success of social and service activities.

Best Luck
Mary

Delegate

Assembly

Delegate Assembly is the link between student council and the student body. Monthly meetings provide the opportunity for students to keep their first period classes acquainted with school problems, so that they are competent in forming opinions and making decisions.

Rotc

The R.O.T.C. program at East is designed to help the cadet develop character, leadership and responsibility. Each cadet is given the opportunity to attain a variety of skills by participating in such activities as the rifle team, the color guard or the drill team. With the development of self-discipline, acquired through military training, the cadet will become a more effective future citizen or member of the military service.

Displaying almost unerring accuracy, the East ROTC rifle team shot its way to a tie for second place in the city competition. The East marksmen also entered the N.R.A. Sectional and Colorado State Rifle Meets.

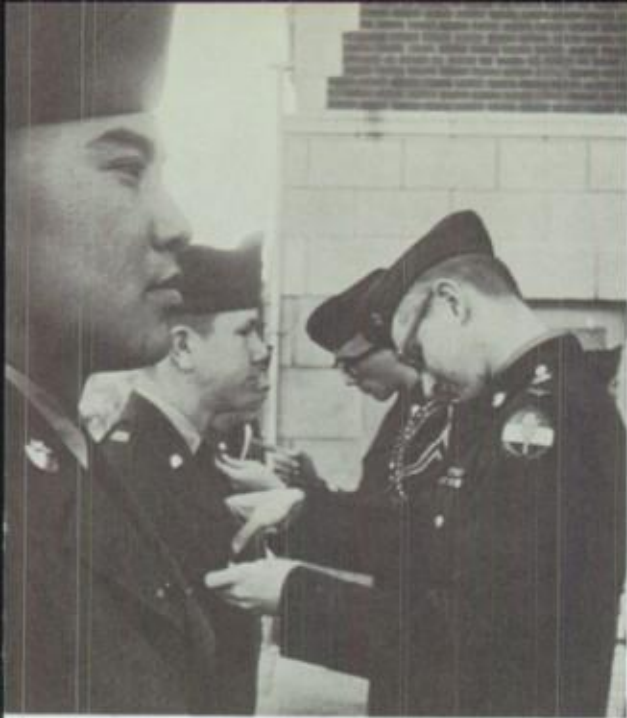

With intensive practicing, the East ROTC Drill Team developed into a polished and highly precisioned group. This year the drill team participated in the city-wide and C.U. drill competitions. It also provided half-time entertainment at a basketball game during the A.A.U. Tournament.

Assemblies

Students were given the opportunity to grow both culturally and socially through the various assemblies.

One of the most stirring assemblies was the performance of the Denver Symphony orchestra. The Code of Conduct assembly, presented by the student council, was awe inspiring. The numerous pep assemblies gave the students the chance to show their school spirit. Other assemblies included the annual Howdy Day assembly, the competition in the annual Woodbury and Wolcott contests, a science demonstration presented by the Atomic Research Plant at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and athletic, election and academic awards assemblies.

East High School introduced a new type of all-school show for 1962. Under the direction of Mr. Ralph Johnson and Miss Mimi Collins, talented students undertook the difficult task of producing "High Button Shoes," a musical comedy which ran on Broadway for three years. Over one hundred students, with the aid of many faculty members, coordinated acting, dancing, singing, and musical accompaniment to turn out a show that would be a pace-setter among Denver high schools.

On March 8 and 10, audiences were delighted by the high-spirited antics of the lively cast. The mood was aided by the excellence of the orchestra, directed by Mr. Kay Shadwell, and the chorus, led by Mrs. Marion Padboy. Alan Titus gave a laudable performance as Harrison Floy, a fast-talking, fourflusher. Larry Coffee was strong support as his faithful accomplice.

Let's

Go!

The Angel's defensive forward wall charges to bring down a Patriot ball carrier.

East High Angels have good reason to be proud of the Big Red football team. The team won the city championship, going undefeated in league play. The Angels played Lakewood in the state play-offs, and the game ended in a 7-7 tie. The squad lost during the "sudden death" overtime 14-7 in a real heartbreaker.

Many of our players were cited for their outstanding play. Those making All-City were: Cary Gagan, Frank Winters, Steve Sidwell, Rich Tate, and Rick Van Woerkom. Steve Sidwell made All-Metropolitan and All-State.

 Bill Halton

Cary Gagan turns behind the Angel forward wall. He is running a "spinner" play. This play usually calls for a delay, such as faking to another back, so that the line has time to set up and make its block.

Rich Tate, an all-city player, illustrates the off-tackle play of the Angels' single wing attack. This is basic play, which helped to bring both Tate and the Big Red much success this past season.

Passing was East's surprise weapon this year. Luke Terry throws the reverse pass to Rich Tate.

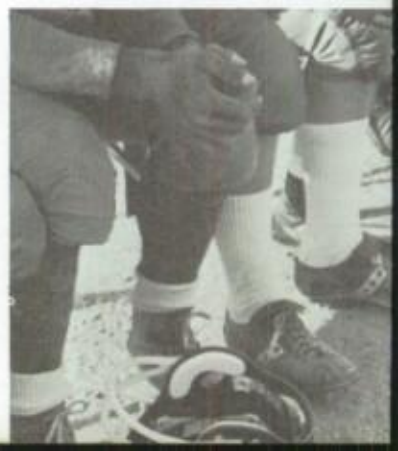

Tate cuts back behind the Angels' power block, typifying the action of this year's team.

Our Angel basketball team held undisputed first place in the Denver League only once during the season — in the final standings when it counted. East won its fourteenth Denver title in twenty-nine tries. Our team had not only the best won-lost record but also the league team-scoring record and the least number of points scored against them. In the first game of the state tournament, East defeated Pueblo Centennial 77-63. The semi-final game was a heartbreaker as East lost in an overtime game to Greeley, who went on to be state champs.

Several players were cited for their outstanding play this year. Cary Gagan, co-captain, and J. R. Craig made All-City on the second team. Richard Tate, co-captain made first team All-City, All-Metropolitan, and All-State.

Don Canaday goes in for an easy two against West.

The junior basketball team did not live up to expectations this year. The team was ambitious and had good spirit but was unable to find a reliable winning combination. Coach Panek was philosophical in his appraisal of the team and thought that the team would jell by next year.

The Sophomore Basketball coach, Mr. Jim Redic, produced another outstanding team this year. The Sophomore Basketball squad followed in the steps of the Sophomore football team by going undefeated in fourteen games. Some of the boys on this team will help build the nucleus of the Varsity Basketball squad for the next two years. The boys' ability to win and show sportsmanship typifies the East High athlete.

Only a lack of depth and strength on the mats kept the gymnastic team from placing higher than their fourth place finish in the city. Coach Moulton was especially pleased this season with the work of Bernie Wrightson on the high bar and Doug Boyer's performance on the trampoline. The members of the gymnastic team are selected from the boys who are enrolled in the apparatus gym class. By the end of the school year, most of the students in the class have acquired a superior degree of coordination and are adept at various gymnastic exercises.

The East swimming team, coached by Mr. Moulton, had a very successful season. Led by Richard Bennett and Jack Scripps, the team finished third in the city behind South and Washington. East surprised Washington in the state meet in February, however, and placed second. Bernie Wrightson paced the diving throughout the season and broke the existing diving record at the state meet by a wide margin.

By winning their first two meets, the cindermen of East High started their season in excellent fashion. In the DPHSAL relays, they placed second. At the Aurora relays, which included teams from all over the state, the team came in fourth. During this meet, a new Distance Medley relay record was set by our team.

The Bowling club has the distinction of being the only club in Denver in which all the members can out-bowl the sponsor. Nevertheless, Mr. Lindblom, sponsor, still enjoys his team, which has been moderately successful this year. The club bowls each week against a different high school. At the end of the year all the schools send their best bowlers to the summer tournament. This year East is sending Betty Walker.

Distributive Education

The D.E. Club was well publicized this year in several newspaper articles concerning the club's president, Jim Taylor. Jim brought fame to the club and East by being elected the state president of Distributive Education. The club also had the unique experience of taking over the University Hills Shopping Center for two days. Eight other schools participated and together ran four Denver area stores.

The Junior Classical League is composed of Latin students interested in studying classical antiquity. Their path to understanding is by way of imitation. A JCL meeting can easily resemble the gathering of the roman populus despite a few togas out of place. The varied activities of the club this year included the annual state convention at Alameda High School, the Christmas party, and the Ides of March party.

Symposium discusses the humanities with emphasis on theology. Logical thought and self-expression are developed in mentally stimulating discussions. The curious mind may inquire and try to answer, through discussion, problems that have troubled men through the ages. The results may be negative, but the members still learn about some of the methods which philosophers have used to deal with the same problems.

Probably the most active club at East this year was the Seraph Sisters. The Seraphs, assisted by Mrs. Mary C. Moore, successfully completed thirteen service projects for the school. Among these projects were the welcoming of the sophomores, the faculty dessert, the first dance of the year, Latin Lace, and the annual tapping assembly.

The girls who began the Rifle Club at East have gotten a real bang out of participating. The teams have proved that they can hit a target as well as any boy can (and probably better). The club believes that the study of rifles and safe shooting is important for everyone — even the gentler sex. The girls compete with the rifle teams from other schools and meet and practice their skill several times a month.

Foreign Language

The students of the Foreign Language and International Relations clubs have visited many lands this year via slides, films, speakers, and restaurants. These clubs are not only interested in foreign languages and international relations, but also in cultures and customs. By viewing slides of various countries, listening to foreign voices, and tasting foreign foods, the students gain a better understanding of other peoples and a more tolerant and appreciative attitude toward their cultures.

Model Teens

Most girls want to be feminine, but the girls in Model Teens make a concentrated effort to become "female" females. This year they questioned a panel of boys to discover the "female" image in the male mind. After this enlightenment and a guest speaker from Patricia Stevens Modeling School, the girls were ready to give their annual fashion show which was held at the Olin Hotel on March 3. Among their other activities were a Christmas party at Laredon Hall and a trunk showing.

Future Teachers of America

"When's goin' to be our Weddenin', our weddenin', our weddenin'?" strummed Mark Moore at a recent Counterpoints gathering. Other musicians that have played for the group include Thomas Briccetti, a Ford Foundation composer in residence with the Denver Public Schools, and the Whims. The performers instruct the club members as well as provide them with an enjoyable afternoon.

"Pass the paste!" chortled a member of F.T.A. as the club was assembling a scrapbook for Peruvian students. The scrapbook is one of several F.T.A. activities which include ushering for the Denver Teachers' Club and tutoring absentee students. The various aspects of the teaching profession are investigated and evaluated through these activities.

Varied faces

I failed . . .
I don't care . . .
I won't again . . .
I'll do better.

I'm proud of my work, and of the value of doing it.

I'm lonely, and new here . . .
these halls are strange.

I'm happy.
This is my school.
I've a seat by the radiator in winter, the windows in spring.

I belong . . .
through my place in the classroom,
my office in a club,
my voice in the pep club.

I'm an individual.
I'm gaining knowledge here that allows me to be myself.

Let's study together . . .

I'll see you at lunch . . .

Meet you under the clock . . .

Dear Mary,
I'll never forget all the good times we've had in school and on the week-ends.
Remember our cadets, the top of the Park and every Sunday afternoon when your family came over to bathe fun these past two years.
I remember when I moved here last year only to find the Abdos girls so friendly to me. I had really helped me alot. This summer when you guys came I'm going to play down by the lake to see you and miss you so much.

To ^{my} little Mouse:
Although I didn't go this yr. to school with you, I feel a part of it; in that we have attended many occasions together. We have had many memories from "Old East," I hope that we continue our memories; knowing my ~~good~~ good fortune, I believe we will. (I hope) (pretty sure) (positive)
See you later
Mouse "ole" buddy.

Specifications and Credits

The 1962 Angelus is printed by offset lithography on Luminescent High White Vellum stock. Body copy is set in 10 point Spartan Medium, captions in 8 point Metro Medium, and Metro Bold, page heads in 24 point Tempo Heavy.

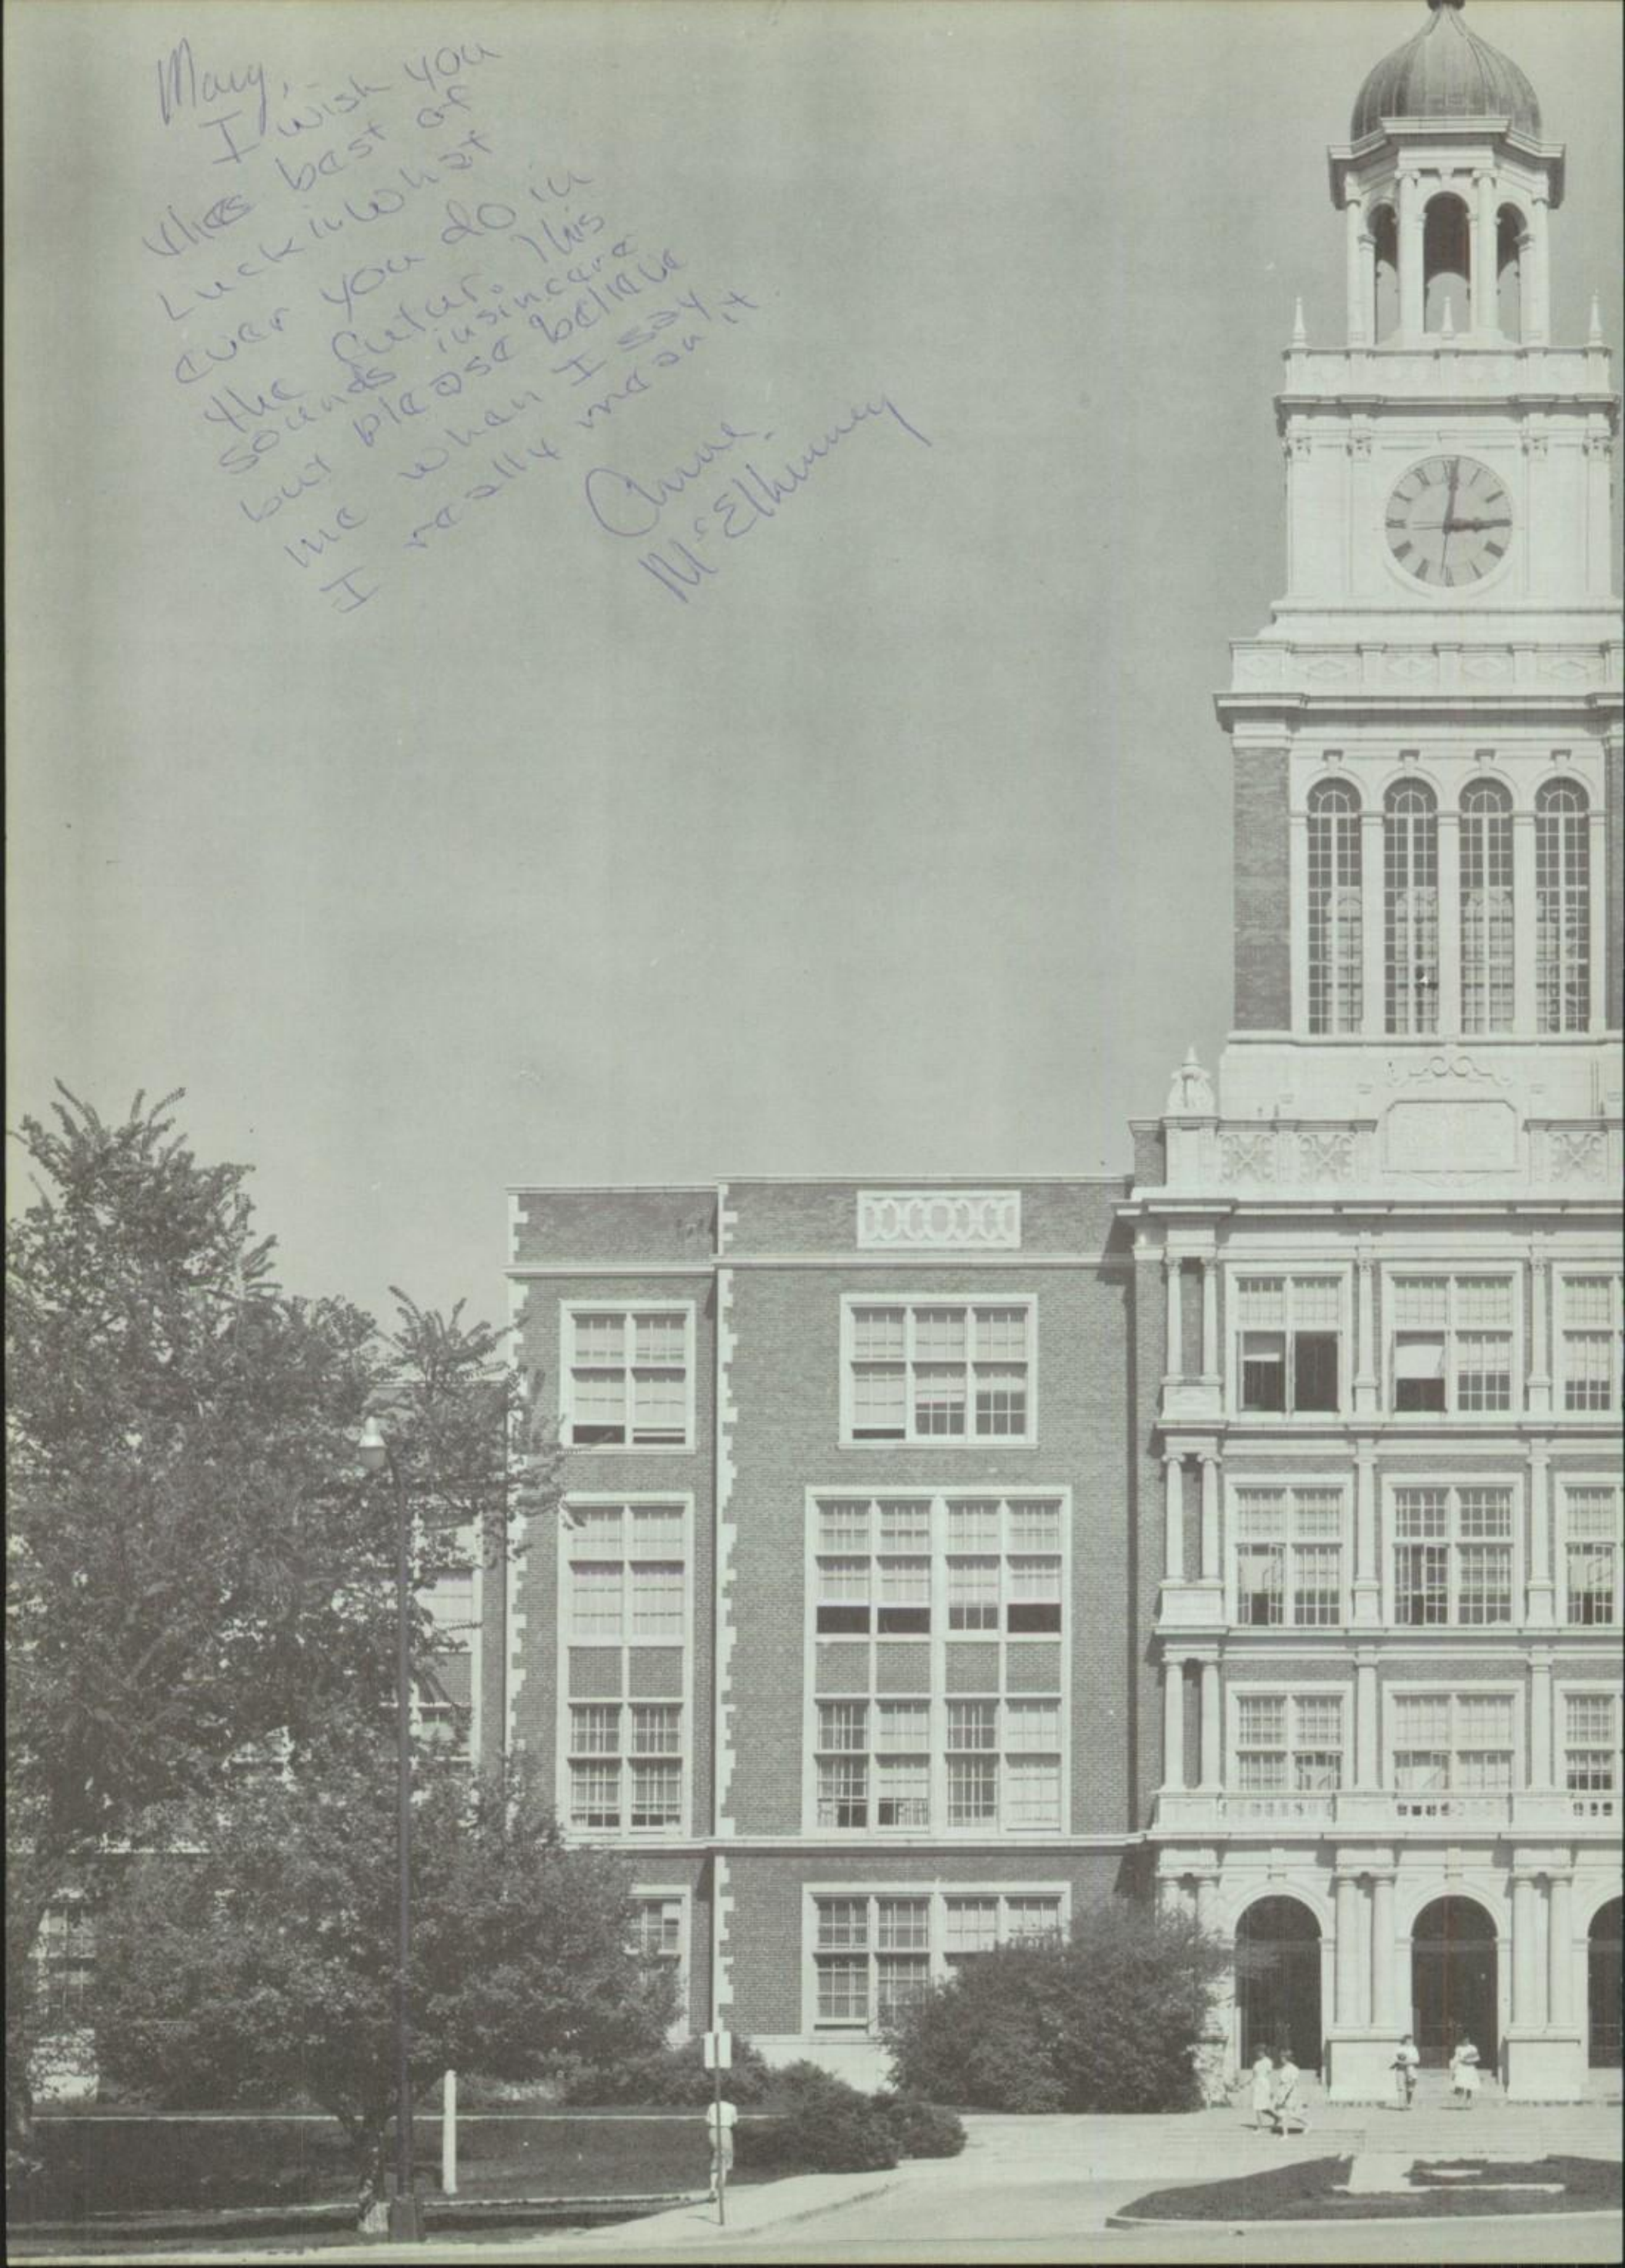

Photographic specifications, equipment and materials include: three Pentaxes, three Rolleiflexes, two Graphics, two Leicas, one eight-by-twenty view camera, one eight-by-ten view camera, one Plaid Wide Angle Camera (World's one and only), one Brownie Starflash, one Graflex Strobe IV, one Heiland 71A, two Heiland 60S, one Graflex II, one Dormitzer Zephyr, one Heiland 72A, two Braun units, many many #22 bulbs, fifteen hundred feet 35mm film (Plus-X, Tri-X), 160 rolls 120 film (ditto), 100 sheets 4x5 Royal Pan, 2 sheets 8x20 Royal Pan, one 23C Beseler enlarger, three Omega D2 cold-lite enlargers, one 43CRX Beseler enlarger, one 35mm Leitz enlarger, and five darkrooms.

Most pictures were exposed on Tri-X film at 1300 ASA and developed normally in Acufine Developer. The original prints were made on Kodak Polycontrast paper (11x14), DuPont Varigam (8x10), and Agfa glossy III, IV, and V (8x10 and 11x14) and developed in LPD paper developer. The prints were natural and blotter dried for reproduction.

Queens and attendants were shot by Edward DeCroke of Stoffel Studio. Special large format wide angle photography was provided by Mile High Photo.

Mary,
I wish you the best of luck in what ever you do in the future. This sounds sincere but please believe me when I say it
I really meant it.

Mary.

It's been an inspiration knowing such a congenial girl as you Mary.
Your friendship has meant a great deal to me and I truly hope we can always continue it. Let's promise to write at school, O.K.?

God Bless you beautiful

Mary, loved I've known you this year. You've been so much fun to be with.
Good luck always and I'll see you Christmas.
Love,

It's been from knowing all these and years and to get her the farm we had to get her to do class with Mrs. Page lots of food for the future in some place
